Crawford County Prosecutor John Huss said he was expecting a scene report from the Michigan State Police Crime Lab on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 24. He was expecting an autopsy report Wednesday, Jan. 25. An investigation into the shooting conducted by three state police detectives from Gaylord, Houghton Lake, and Cadillac has already been completed.

Huss said he will release information from the three reports on Thursday.

COOR Seeks Replacement Of 20-Year-Old Portables

On Monday, January 30, C.O.O.R. will ask area voters to pass one mill for one year to replace six 20-year-old portable classrooms.

The portable classrooms, on their last legs, are currently used by trainable mentally impaired (TMI) and severely mentally impaired (SMI) students from the four-county area of C.O.O.R. (Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw, and Roscommon).

Twenty of the 57 students currently in the TMI and SMI programs come from Crawford County. The local school districts, who are responsible for the education of the students, pay C.O.O.R. to provide educational services.

The one mill proposal for one year will pay for the construction of a new facility for the students. C.O.O.R. administrators say the portables can not be used another year.

The C.O.O.R. Intermediate

School District operates on .75 mills and this millage is the lowest in the state among the 57 intermediate school districts. C.O.O.R. has operated on the same .75 mills for 22 years.

The Crawford AuSable School Board has supported the millage request because it feels it's the most cost effective way to pay for the new classroom construction. If the millage doesn't pass, C.O.O.R. will have to build the new facility anyways and it will pass on the costs to the local districts. Without the millage, the local school districts will be paying for the construction costs plus the cost of financing the project over several years.

If the one mill passes, it will cover construction costs with no interest payments necessary.

The one mill will bring in an estimated $960,000, enough to pay for building the new facility estimated at $750,000 and equipping the new classrooms.

$400,000 New Center Proposed for Pines

A beautiful but rotting interpretive center at Hartwick Pines is slated for replacement with funding created by the passage of Proposal D last November.

The large two-story log center was built in 1935 by the Civilian Conservation Corps. Hartwick Pines State Park Manager Bob Bacon said many of the logs, some as high as halfway up the structure, show signs of rotting. Several of the bottom logs sound hollow, from the work of beetles and carpenter ants. Sawdust from the insects' work can be found around the building and small holes are visible in most of the logs.

The state Natural Resources Commission has approved a new $400,000 interpretive center for Hartwick Pines. The new center would include a workshop for preparing park exhibits, a 100-seat auditorium for educational programs, a reference library, and displays on Michigan's forest resources, early logging, and reforestation.

Wendell Hoover, Hartwick Pines Park Interpreter, said the new center would allow the park to offer more to visitors. Currently, the interpretive center is closed in the winter because it's hard to heat. The electrical system in the old building also limited its use. Hoover said right now the park doesn't have a warm place for cross-country skiers to leave from. The new center could accommodate that growing sport at the park.

The new center will likely be built in a different location from the 1935 building.

Bacon said they would like to move the entrance of the park to take care of a couple of problems. Right now, M-93 goes through the center of the park with campgrounds on one side and most of the visitor attractions on the other side.

Bacon said one plan would be to move the entrance to the park farther west on the north side of M-93 and move the campgrounds to the north side of M-93. Park officials would then be better able to control the traffic into the park through one entrance. Right now, there are a couple of ways into the park attractions and campgrounds. The move would also reduce the number of park visitors crossing M-93.

Along with the new interpretive center, Proposal D funding will also pay for repaving of Hartwick Pines roads, sites, and parking lots.

Bacon said no one knows for sure when the new center will be built. The state's Secretary of State office, in charge of historical buildings in Michigan, is looking into the possibility of restoring the 1935 building.

Both Bacon and Hoover believe the rotting is so extensive, the entire building would have to be taken apart log by log to check each one and to rebuild a sound structure. They estimated it would cost as much to restore it as it would to build a new center that offers more to park visitors.

King Rex and his Queen Contest Added to Carnival

In keeping with the Mardi Gras theme, the Winter Carnival committee has added a King Rex and his Queen Contest to the calendar of events for Feb. 3-4-5th.

Traditionally, King Rex and his Queen have served as grand marshalls to the Mardi Gras Parade in New Orleans. Rex Harrison and Sir Lawrence Oliver are just two of the people who have served as Rex.

King Rex and his Queen will serve as grand marshalls of the torchlight parade Feb. 3rd and will be crowned at the costume ball Feb. 4th.

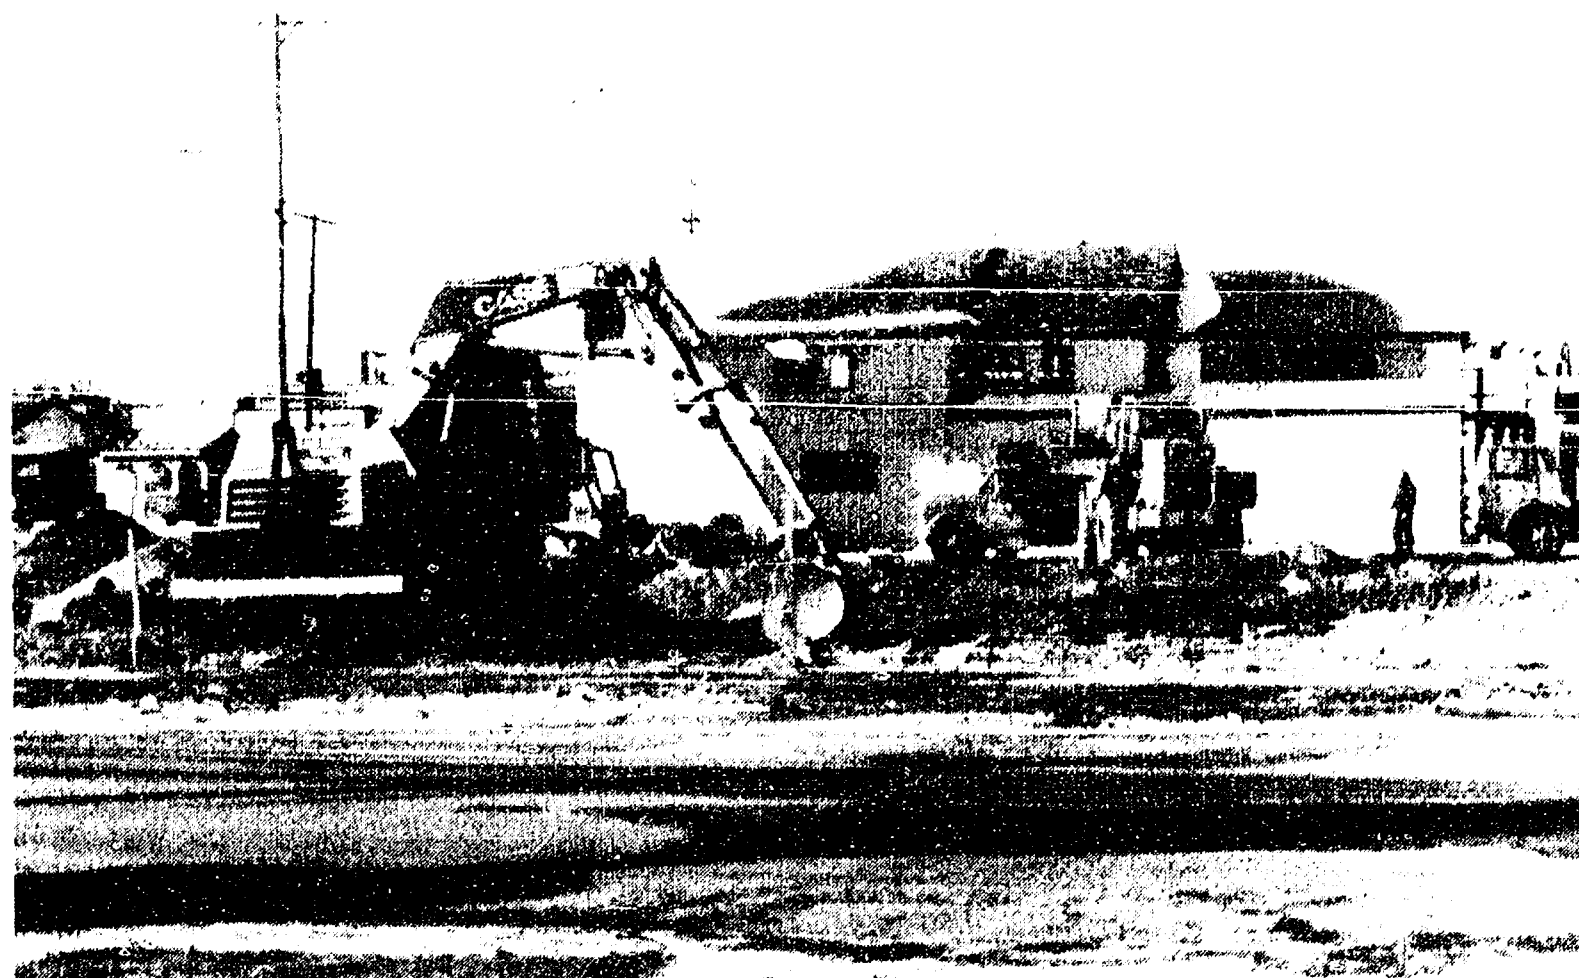

You can elect your favorite candidate to fill the King's and Queen's crown by using the official entry ballot that appears below to vote. You may vote as many times as you wish but you must use an official entry blank from the Avalanche. Lake elementary schools. The Grayling elementary school will be seeing the play designed to help children prevent sexual abuse, during this school year. Monies have also been used to print Teen Help Cards which list agencies and phone numbers of area resources which deal with problems affecting teens today.

Child abuse is something most of us do not like to think about. In Michigan not a day goes by without a child being abused in some way, either physically, sexually, or as a result of some form of neglect. Be sure to look for the CTF line on your Michigan State Tax form so you can take an active role in preventing abuse and neglect in your community.

ALL ABOUT TOWN

"SERVING ON THE SCHOOL BOARD AND HELPING YOUR SON WITH HIS HOMEWORK IS NOT A CONFLICT OF INTEREST."

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson
Avalanche Editor

You probably haven't thought about it once yet today.

For the first few days you talked about it, shook your head, thought about it often.

Just when you figured modern society couldn't shock you anymore, just when you thought there was no new horror to announce on the front page of newspapers, another tragedy punches you.

Eight days ago Patrick Purdy opened fire on a playground, for godsakes. Aimed right at children, killing five, ages 6-8, and wounding dozens.

The first day you heard the news, it was so repulsive, your anger couldn't help but come out. Something was awfully wrong here and never would be right. So what if the murderer rots in hell forever? That won't help those children or the people surrounding them.

The next couple of days, the abhorrent incident pops into your thoughts on and off. "How can someone supposedly human kill a child?" "What can we do to prevent this?" "Why aren't children sacred in the world anymore?"

When you think about the atrocity, it's hard to continue with your day-to-day activities. Most things pale in comparison. How can you care about people complaining about their small problems after children have been slaughtered?

At least it's easier to focus on your own life after the tragedy. The health and well-being of children, family, and friends become very important. Money, social status, and material things suddenly don't add up to much at all.

But after a few days, the routine wears away your new-found clarity — grinds it down. You get entangled in petty matters again. You lose that clear view of what's important to you.

And after 8 days, the whole morning goes by and you don't once think of those children in California who were murdered. What will it take to teach each and everyone of us the preciousness of the children and people in our lives? By forgetting the California children, have you also forgotten what's important in your life?

As second semester gets underway, juniors are encouraged to begin or resume their exploration of careers and colleges and to begin thinking about preparing for the ACT Test.

Michigan State Board of Education Summer Institutes for Arts and Sciences are offering programs this summer for sophomores and juniors. These programs are at Eastern Michigan University, Michigan Technological University and Western Michigan University. If a student would like more information, they should contact their high school counselor.

TESTING

Any senior who hasn't taken the ACT Test must register by January 31st. The next test is February 11th. Forms can be picked up in the Counseling Office.

FRESHMEN

Results of the D.A.T. (Differential Aptitude Test) are in. Mrs. Green will be reviewing those results with freshmen in the near future. Please call if you are interested in setting up an appointment to discuss your son/daughter's Aptitude Test.

SOPHOMORES

Mr. Klinger will be discussing career and college planning with students who took the P-ACT Plus test. These results will give students information about careers and strengths and weaknesses in the academic area, as well as help prepare them for the ACT (American College Testing) Test in their junior year.

FINANCIAL AID

A reminder to students going on to college and are interested in seeking financial aid must fill out a financial aid form. These forms are available in the Counseling Office.

Students who qualified for the State of Michigan Competitive Scholarship must have financial aid forms mailed by February 15th.

There will be a Financial Aid Workshop on January 28th at 6:30 p.m. in the high school library. Dale Shantz, Financial Aid Coordinator at Kirtland Community College, and Bill Klinger, High School Counselor, will give a presentation on Federal, State and Local Financial Aid. If you are planning to seek Financial Aid you should attend this workshop.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Central Michigan University is offering a Special Talent Scholarship in Theatre and Interpretation for Fall of 1989. Students interested should see Mr. Klinger.

Ferris State University is offering an Honors Scholarship for students with a 3.25 G.P.A. and have taken the ACT Test. Applications can be picked up from Mr. Klinger in the Counseling Office.

Letters to the Editor

Portable Classrooms Not Fit for Kids

Letter to the Editor:
To the citizens of Crawford, Oscoda, Ogemaw and Roscommon Counties:

The election to vote on approval of one mill for one year to be held January 30, 1989, is not just another election. While most of us live and learn in comfortable houses, handicapped children attending school on the Hill at COOR are being required to attend school in 20 year old portables designed to last ten years. These old double-wide portables, aged and deteriorated, are not acceptable for the children to use. The old portables will be replaced with plain comfortable classrooms when the one year millage is passed.

These are our kids. We've demonstrated through our support of Special Olympics and through our continuing concern for the handicapped that we do care.

Even though we've had it up to here with property taxes — please — just one more time — vote Yes on January 30.

George M. Curtis
Member
COOR Board of Education

One Year Millage Will Show We Care

There are some very special individuals that are in great need and now is the time to show these special people that we can be good neighbors. I am referring to the mentally and multiply impaired students in our county. There is a desperate need for a new facility to house new classrooms that will provide a safe and healthy environment for students and teachers.

The conditions of the existing facilities are shocking. Walls and floors of the 25 year old portable classrooms are full of mold. The remodeled "Cow Barn" has from time to time been overrun with rodents etc. Needless to say, the good and capable people that run C.O.O.R. programs are frustrated by the fact that they have to use these old and very inadequate buildings.

The staff, the impaired students, and the students' families need to be shown that we can be good neighbors. We can do this by voting yes on Jan. 30th. It will only cost each average property owner about $20 to $30 dollars for one year.

That's a very small price to pay to show that we care for the health, education, and well being of our trainable and severely mentally impaired special education students. Please show that you care! Vote Yes.

Linda & Mike Caswell

Opinions

Almanack

By Richard Milliman
Avalanche President

All together, by the numbers

THE AMERICAN PEOPLE have a fascination with numbers, and the media seem to pander to this fascination.

Polls, studies, surveys — anything that can produce statistics — are prominent in the public mind.

In an effort, then, to give the public what it wants (that is the role of the media, isn't it?), here is a variety of numbers, gathered recently at random and unconnected, from various public sources.

— MORE STUDENTS enrolled at Michigan's 15 public universities last fall than in any year this decade. Total enrollment was 249,081, for a 2 percent increase over the previous year. Biggest gains were at Grand Valley (9.2 percent) and Lake Superior (8.6 percent). Only declines were at University of Michigan-Flint, Oakland and Central. (Source: State Department of Education).

— Three of four Americans say the federal government should cut spending rather than raise taxes to reduce the $150 million deficit; but 3 of 4 also think higher taxes are likely. As to spending cuts, half say reduce the defense budget; one-third say cut social programs and foreign aid; 11 percent favor cutting government salaries. But 92 percent oppose a Social Security cut and 68 percent oppose cutting Medicaid. (Source: Gannett News Service poll).

— The U.S. had a 8 percent population gain from 1985-88, up to 245.8 million. California, the largest state, gained 1.8 million residents, up 6.9 percent. Michigan gained 2.3 percent, up 211,000, after dropping population every year from 1980-85. (Source: Census Bureau).

— IN A RECENT YEAR, 10 senators received 50 percent of TV network news coverage, 20 senators got 68 percent, and 17 senators never appeared on any of the 1,095 broadcasts. (Source: An unidentified "survey of network news coverage" cited by Columnist George Will).

— Only 7 percent of college football and basketball players major in the sciences or humanities. Only 5.5 percent major in physical education. About 40 percent major in business and engineering. (Source: A study by the NCAA).

— Monthly average salaries for various levels of education: Professional degrees $3,439. Doctorate $2,747. Master's $1,958. Bachelor's $1,540. Associates $1,188. Vocational $990. High school $848. No high school $415. (Sources: U.S. Census Bureau).

— PREDICTIONS FOR 1989: Car sales will decline by about 1 percent to 10.6 million units; manufacturers in U.S. and Canada will have 72 percent of those sales. Banking industry assets will rise about 7 percent. Airline revenue will rise more than 14 percent. (Source: U.S. Commerce Department).

GLARE AND HAZY VISION
QUESTION: What can be done to reduce annoying glare during the daytime and at night?
ANSWER: There are several solutions to reducing glare depending on the actual situation. For night activities, such as reducing glare from on-coming traffic, an Anti-Reflection Coating would benefit the wearer. For individuals who may be sensitive to glare and direct outdoor lighting, Corning Glare Control Lenses would benefit the wearer. These lenses photochromically adjust to changing light levels - They lighten indoors and darken outdoors - a little on hazy days, a lot in direct sunlight. Many people with developing or removed cataracts can benefit from the Corning Glare Control Lenses also.

DNR Volunteer Fire Fighters Honored

The Michigan Department of Natural Resources honored 4 men for their work as volunteer forest fire fighters, known as keymen, at a dinner held recently at the Lone Pine Restaurant.

These highly trained and dedicated men have given many hours of their time to help protect our natural resources and private property from the devastation of fire.

In attendance to help honor these men were D.N.R. fire personnel, retired fire personnel and other keymen along with their wives. If it were not for dedicated men like these, the forest fire program in Michigan would not be as successful as it is.

Following the dinner and awards a program on Alaska was presented by Pat and Bernie Fowler. The men honored were Bernie Fowler-33 years; John Stampfly over 30 years; Bud Bollman-26 years; and Allen Leng over 20 years.

It was a busy December for Workers in Frederic. On the 4th, they went to Bear's Country Inn for the annual Christmas dinner with spouses and friends. This is paid for by a special fund for this use only.

Mrs. Claus were there to pass stockings with goodies and 173 were served cookies and hot chocolate. This event is also sponsored by the Frederic Fire Department. A donation from Robert Perkins and complimentary cards were received from Hardees.

Leading setter

All-Tournament Team. Sheryl Klinger had a good day setting with 173 good sets. Deanna Phelps and Heather Stephenson were strong at the net, coach Becky Brown said.

Tremblay led the team with 37 serves, Klinger had 34, Phelps 30, Stephenson 22, Cheryl Barber 15, and Jannice LaDuke 11. Tremblay led the team with 39 spikes and 25 tips. Stephenson had 37 tips and Phelps had 15. Tremblay, Phelps, and LaDuke led in passing and Stephenson had 27 blocks and Phelps had 20. Margarita Perez and Lisa Kimball contributed good defense.

Last week Grayling also dropped a five game match to Kalkaska 15-11, 9-15, 15-3, 10-15, 15-12.

"We didn't serve or receive serves well," said Brown. "We missed too many serves after big points."

Brown said the highlight of the match was a streak by Tammy Duby when she came in the fourth game and had a block, a spike, and an ace tip right in a row to help Grayling win the fourth game 15-10.

Phelps led the team with 14 serves. Tremblay, Klinger, and Stephenson had 13 each. Nikki Trenary had 11 serves, Kimball 7, LaDuke 6, and Heather Felton contributed two hard serves that both scored points.

LaDuke and Tremblay led the team with 12 spikes each and Klinger led in setting.

I Bet You Didn't Know

Brought To You

Here's an amazing sports fact...When Kareem Abdul-Jabbar played college basketball at UCLA, his team, over 4 years, won 98% of all their games!...Abdul-Jabbar played in 111 games for UCLA and they won 109 of them!

Here's a fact that's hard to believe...Of all the stadiums in America, there are only TWO that have hosted both a World Series and a Super Bowl... You'd think there'd be more than that...The only stadiums that have hosted both a Super Bowl and World Series are San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium (World Series 1984 and Super Bowl 1988) and the Los Angeles Coliseum (World Series 1959 and Super Bowls of 1967 and 1973).

Here's an oddity...Boxer Sugar Ray Leonard once knocked out 2 men in the SAME fight!...On Oct. 6, 1978, Leonard was fighting Randy Shields when the referee came in close, just as Leonard was throwing a punch...That punch accidentally hit the referee, cutting his eye and knocking him out of the bout...A substitute referee finished the fight and Leonard then knocked out Shields, giving Sugar Ray 2 KOs in the same fight.

I bet you didn't know... Get a knockout of a deal on a new car or truck! See Cliff Wheeler today!

The Bible Speaks

From Calvary Baptist Church

The Gospel of John

Part #62

The Triumphal Entry
We call it Palm Sunday! It was the Sunday before the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. It was the Sunday the Jews brought over a quarter of a million lambs into Jerusalem prior to the sacrifice of the Passover. Jesus Christ, our passover, (I Corinthians 5:7), was the Lamb of God entering Jerusalem to deliberately die for our sins in accord with God's plan of salvation. (Mark 10:32-34). The multitude welcomed Him as their king in John 12:13, fulfilling the prophecy of Psalm 118:26. Jesus came into town riding on the colt of a donkey in John 12:14, 15, fulfilling the prophecy of Zechariah 9:9. The crowd thought He would be a political revolutionary to free them from Rome, but He came on a donkey as a prince of peace. When He returns again He will be riding a white horse, and judging the world. (Revelation 19:10-16).

The great multitude which thronged Him that day included those who had witnessed the miracle of Lazarus from the dead. Their testimony increased the crowd which sought to be near Jesus. "The people therefore that was with him when he called Lazarus out of his grave, and raised him from the dead, bare record. For this cause the people also met him, for that they heard that he had done this miracle." (John 12:17, 18). People were drawn to the life giving power of Jesus Christ.

In stark contrast to the cheerful response of the Jewish people, the religious leaders of Israel were very disturbed at this seeming success of Jesus Christ. "The Pharisees therefore said among themselves, Perceive ye how ye prevail nothing? behold, the world is gone after him." (John 12:19). These false religious leaders were now discussing ways to kill both Lazarus and Jesus to end the impact of the ministry of Jesus Christ.

As He approached the city of Jerusalem, Jesus wept over the future judgment which would come upon the city of Jerusalem because of their unbelief and rejection of Him as their Messiah. (Luke 19:41-44). This same fickle crowd which was praising Him today, would in a few short days be crying, "Crucify Him! Crucify Him!"

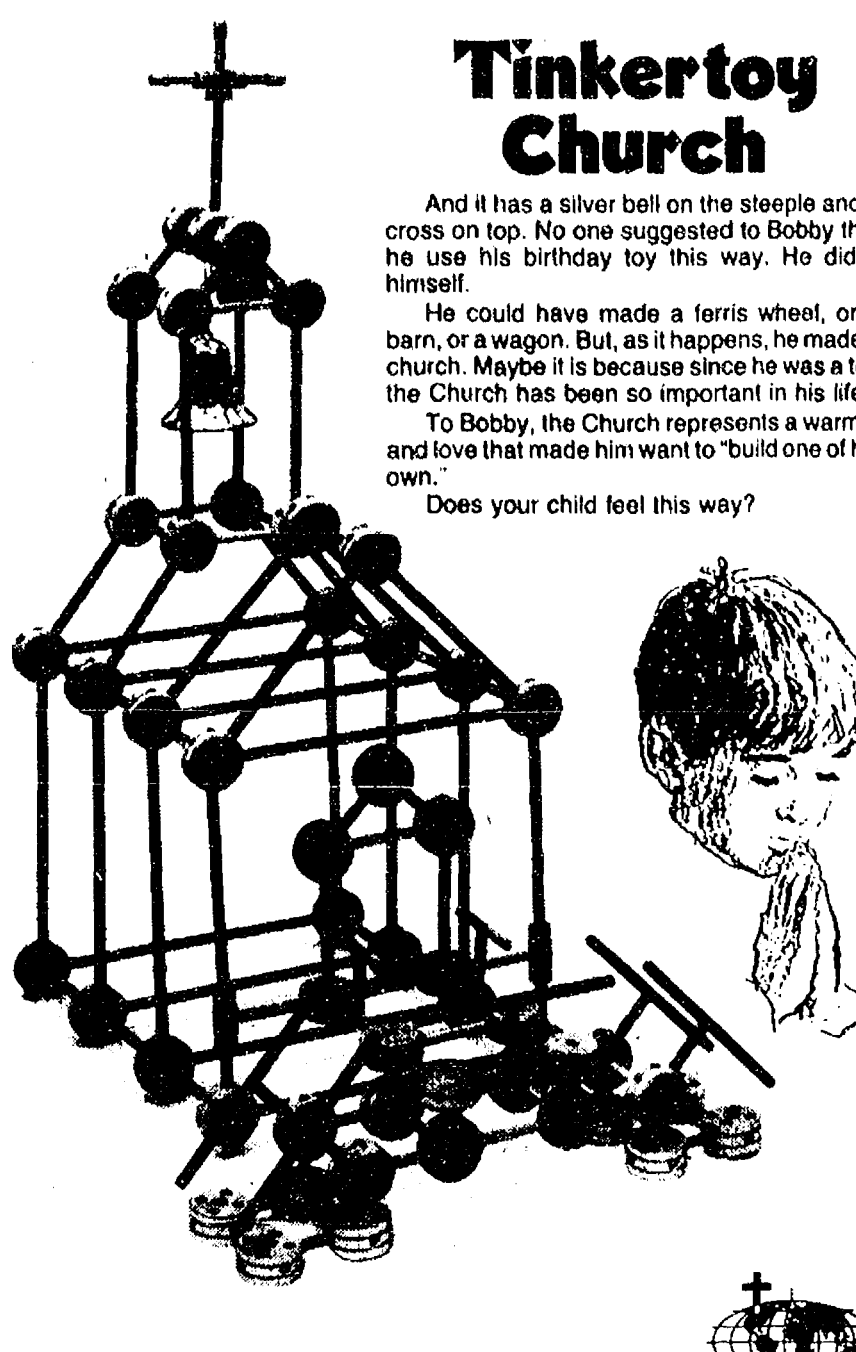

How important is Jesus Christ to you in your daily life in northern Michigan? Is your personal faith in Jesus Christ like that of this fickle crowd, geared to changing circumstances? Is He someone else for you to use and reject at will? Is He really your King today?

CHURCH DIRECTORY

Tinkertoy Church

And it has a silver bell on the steeple and a cross on top. No one suggested to Bobby that he use his birthday toy this way. He did it himself.

He could have made a ferris wheel, or a barn, or a wagon. But, as it happens, he made a church. Maybe it is because since he was a tot, the Church has been so important in his life.

To Bobby, the Church represents a warmth and love that made him want to "build one of his own."

Does your child feel this way?

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

I see in the Detroit Free Press that 75 furs with a value of over a quarter of a million dollars were damaged or destroyed by vandals during a "fur mart" at Cobo Hall in Detroit. The persons responsible used razor blades and chewing gum to ruin the coats, most of which were mink, silver fox or coyote.

Although officials are stating that they don't know who is responsible, and no one has taken credit for this action, I feel fairly certain that when the truth comes out, we will find that a group protecting the use of poor defenseless animals, cruelly trapped and killed, for ornamental purposes will be in the limelight.

I don't intend to get into a debate of the pros and cons of trapping, hunting and fishing, but wish to point out what may well become an increasingly common occurrence. Remember the burning of a department store in England just before Christmas?

There is a substantial group of people who feel it is wrong to kill wild animals. This group becomes visible from time to time as they protest what another substantial group of people see as time honored activities. In a democracy, there will be, by definition, conflicts of ideas, debates and discussions. When the subject of these discussions exists on both an emotional and rational plane, there is not much chance for a consensus. A hunter explaining the scientific basis for wildlife management will make little headway with an antihunter who insists all animals have the right to exist, as he or she stands there in leather shoes. And vice versa.

Those of you who trap, hunt or fish will find yourselves increasingly beleaguered by those who are opposed to your activities. If you don't want to lose your privileges, you are going to have to protect yourselves. Obey the laws. Insist others do the same. Don't take part in unethical, even if legal, activities. And use your heads. When the time comes to debate this issue, brash threats and chest thumping will do little good.

It probably is not so unusual, but it was nice to see six or eight Mourning Doves feeding with the Blue Jays on the scratch feed scattered in the driveway. Somehow I don't think of Doves as being here during the winter, but rather equate them with their plaintive cooing call on softly warm summer evenings.

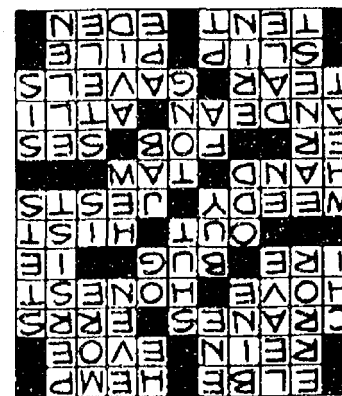

When I checked the references, I discovered there are two types of doves. One has a seven or so species are found in the United States. For your information, the Mourning Dove is smaller than the extinct Passenger Pigeon, but according to the pictures of both there are some similarities in coloration.

None of my references gave a clue as to pointed tail like our mourning dove and the other type has a fan-like tail. What came as a surprise is that there are 289 species around the world, but only when courting and nesting would take place, but they do usually raise two broods a season. They rarely nest on the ground preferring a rather crude platform of sticks in a bush or tree and then not too high above the ground. The two eggs are incubated by both parents and the young are fed regurgitated, partially digested food known as pigeon milk.

It came as no surprise to learn that they favor various seeds as food and according to one source prefer buckwheat. During the summer they have been found feeding upon the seeds of yellow wood sorrel, barnyard grass, joint grass, orange hawkweed, hoary verain and panic grass. Once they discover your feeder they will usually visit you often providing you are consistent with the scratch feed. Keep in mind that they are ground feeders.

A Friend Indeed

You are a friend through good and bad.
You're there most every day—
And when I need some cheering up,
You know just what to say.

You're always there to make me laugh.
No matter what my mood—
Even more so when I'm depressed,
Your interest is renewed.

You know me inside out and such.
Much better than any other—
That's why we get along so great.
We're in sync with one another.

At this point in time I'd say,
I need you more than ever—
I hope that I can count on you,
To stay with me forever.

I also hope that in due time,
You will come to me—
For I am here to help you through,
The things you cannot see.

In this time of comradeship,
I hope that you can see—
I am also here to help you to,
Be the best there is to be.

You were here to help me through.
All the mistakes I made—
I am grateful for a friend like you,
Whose friendship will never fade.

One last thing before I close;
Our friendship was meant to be—
"A friend in need is a friend indeed,"
With this, I must agree...

1/4 c. flour (reserve 1/2 c.)

Cream shortening and sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Add sour cream. Combine dry ingredients and add about a cup at a time. Add reserved flour only if dough is too soft to roll. Roll and cut with cookie cutter. Bake on lightly greased baking sheets for about 12 minutes at 350°. Nuts, raisins, dried red tart cherries or dates may be added. Makes about 6 dozen 2 1/2" cookies.

1/4 c. dark brown sugar
2 tbsp. orange juice

The Avalanche

When the Avalanche hits the streets on Wednesday morn

With all the local news that's new Folks are waiting to grab their paper
To find out Who did what to Who.

For over a hundred years it has spread the news
Of the happenings of our county and town
Like who has passed to their reward
Or who donned their wedding gown.

Who won in our schools latest ballgame
How many points did they score
The Avalanche has the answers
To those questions and more.

What are the plans for the future
Will our city and county prosper and grow
Will some new company move to town
You can read the Avalanche and know.

When you travel far from home
Even to live in a foreign land
The Avalanche can bring you the news
Of the folks you love and understand.

The folks that do something special
Have their moment in the sun
They may get their picture in the paper
With the story of what they've done.

Those folks down at the Avalanche
Deserve our thanks and cheers
The Avalanche has brought us the local news
For one hundred and eleven years.

Financial Institutions Lead Support of Community Projects

Two years ago the generosity of Grayling State Bank, along with Chemical Bank North, Old Kent Bank of Gaylord, and the pledges and donations of many of the downtown businesses, enabled the Community Self Improvement Project to purchase the Walker property, which, years ago was the site of the Vernor's bottling plant and in more recent years served as a parking lot. When CSIP learned that this valuable parking area was about to be closed to the public, action was taken to make the purchase. Paving and landscaping is scheduled for this spring.

Several years ago a similar project was attempted by the downtown merchants. Pledges were taken and a lot was purchased. With the assistance of the city, two vacant buildings were torn down and some basic improvements made. However, the pledges began to dwindle with time and it became necessary for the bank to repossess the land. Instead of taking a negative attitude, Grayling State Bank took positive action and, at its own expense, did the necessary fill and had the lot paved and landscaped for the benefit of the community.

Grayling State Bank has been consistent in its faith and support for the community of Grayling. "Thank You Grayling" which is a special weekend celebration each fall, was initiated by Jack Alef and the staff at Grayling State Bank. The idea was to celebrate the support that our local people give to the business community. In the fall, after the hustle of the tourist season, Alef felt that it was very important to take a deep breath and recognize the importance of our local people, without whom, many of our businesses could not survive. The idea caught on and with the help of the Grayling Promotional Association, it has become a community-wide celebration.

This past summer, the Artrain was able to be a part of the Milltown festival as a result of a donation made by Grayling State Bank.

Several years back, John Alef Jr. committed many hours of effort to organizing a Corvette auto show in Grayling. It was very successful and brought hundreds of visitors to our community. It grew to where it was too much for one person to handle, and when new leadership was unavailable, it was discontinued.

A recent donation by the Grayling State Bank will enable the Community Self Improvement Project to meet an obligation on the Walker Lot, and opens the way to proceed with the necessary improvements to make it an efficient and attractive parking lot for public use. This past summer CSIP landscaped and improved the vacant lot on Michigan Avenue where the old Avalanche building stood before being destroyed by fire. The improvements on this lot along with the brick walkway was completed first in order to provide a greenbelt connection between the parking lot and the downtown businesses. The gazebo in the center of "park" will provide information regarding businesses and services available throughout the community.

This project, along with many others over the years would not have sufficient financing if it were not for the consistent support of Grayling State Bank and our other financial institutions.

Mercy Hospital Helps Bring Specialists to North

Patients of an Ann Arbor-based physician didn't have to spend the day traveling for their appointments when a Pediatric Urology Clinic was held at Mercy Hospital/Grayling last month.

Pediatric Urologist David A. Bloom, M.D., spent Dec. 29 at Mercy Hospital conducting a clinic for his patients in northern Michigan. Dr. Bloom is an Associate Professor of Urology at the University of Michigan. Jill Knechtel, R.N., Clinical Coordinator, assisted Dr. Bloom at the clinic.

"Patients with bladder or kidney problems and those scheduled for follow-up appointments after surgery had the opportunity to see Dr. Bloom closer to home," said Pattie Walker, Nursing Manager and director of specialty clinics at Mercy. "It was convenient for the patients as well as for Dr. Bloom. He would like to return in the near future."

Mercy's ultrasound and laboratory departments were utilized during the clinic, which was held in an examining room in the Radiology Department. Volunteers from Mercy's Auxiliary decorated the clinic area, assisted families, and gave children balloons and coloring books for entertainment.

"We see a substantial number of patients from northern Michigan in our Ann Arbor Pediatric Urology Clinic," said Dr. Bloom. "Follow-up has been difficult for many of these patients after their surgery has been performed. In addition, some of the spina bifida children who do need surveillance also experience difficulty getting back to Ann Arbor as often as would be optimal."

Dr. Bloom's efforts are to conduct follow-up exams of postoperative children, and monitoring of spina bifida children in northern Michigan. Children with such symptoms as urinary infection or unexplained pain can benefit from seeing the Ann Arbor specialist at Mercy.

"Mercy really helped out with the clinic and made the whole effort go very smoothly," said Dr. Bloom. "Mercy's facility and personnel are really top notch and it is a pleasure for me to be associated with such a first class operation."

Other medical specialists visit Mercy Hospital on a regular basis. They include Dr. Christopher Schaiberger and Dr. Eric Zimmerman, Traverse City based Neurosurgeons; and Dr. Harry Borovik, Ear, Nose and Throat Specialist from Traverse City.

For more information about the specialist services offered at Mercy Hospital/Grayling, call Ms. Walker at 348-5461.

IT'S GREAT TO MAKE THE RIGHT ONE.

Buying title insurance is definitely the right choice when it comes to protecting your real estate investment. Buying a home is a serious investment and is not a decision that is made in haste. Just as you protect your possessions by buying homeowners or car insurance, title insurance will protect your rights to own and use your property. After all, what you buy is not the land, but the title to it.

Most people are familiar with disability coverage that helps you pay bills if you cannot work. What happens to a small business when the boss is disabled?

There's similar protection available: a business overhead expense disability policy that provides cash flow to keep the business afloat.

Like a personal disability policy, the business policy allows for a waiting period: how long the company can manage without benefits. The policy can be written to pay as much fixed business expenses as necessary, from rent and utilities to the salaries of key employees.

A policy custom-tailored to each company's needs may pay benefits for as long as two years, if necessary. Of course, premiums are determined by the amount and duration of benefits.
